

POLITICIANS ON THE ALERT NOW

LAYING PLANS FOR NEXT YEAR'S CAMPAIGN ALREADY.

ARE WATCHING EVERY MOVE

General Gossip From Different Parts of the State Gleaned From Newspaper Comment.

While the campaign of November is still months away the politicians of the state are already showing signs of uneasiness and laying their plans for the coming struggle in intensity and general interest throughout the state.

Already candidates for congressional honors, in opposition to many of the present members, are grooming themselves and forming their lines of defense and offense and frequent conferences in Milwaukee and other storm centers demonstrate that the campaign will be a warm one when it really does open.

Morris Talked Of.

It begins to look as though Senator Thomas Morris, La Crosse, will be the gubernatorial candidate of the radical or socialist wing of the republican party.

So far the mention of Senator Morris' name has been received with approval in that wing of the party, aside from the friends of others who have been mentioned as possible candidates. Little has been heard lately of the boom which was started in a tentative way some weeks ago for F. B. McGovern.

Mr. McGovern has been waiting patiently for some signs of the extension of the olive branch which would indicate that Senator La Follette was willing to be forgiven for the manner in which he blew up Mr. McGovern's senatorial chances last year, but not even a bunch of chickadees has come to light thus far, and it looks as if negotiations for a peace treaty would have to come from the Milwaukee man if any were started.

McGovern Too Ambitious.

While it is admitted by many that Mr. McGovern might be the stronger candidate it is felt that Senator Morris would be more reliable. In this connection the letter of Lieut. Gov. Strange to J. A. Stone, produced in the primary investigation, is called to mind.

In this Mr. Strange intimated that while Mr. McGovern and his supporters were all right in a way Mr. McGovern was of too unbalanced a nature to make it advisable to place him where he would come in conflict with Senator La Follette.

Still Mr. McGovern has many friends who believe that he is the best candidate for that wing of the party.

Then there is Senator S. M. Marsh, who is a favorite with the element which favors county option. Whether they will accept Senator Morris in place of their favorite is a question.

Next Senate Different.

There is one thing which might cause a change of plans regarding the candidacy of Senator Morris. That is the composition of the senate. In 1911, it is already certain that the socialist-republican branch will not have the complete control of that body which they did in 1909, through their alliance with the democrats and social democrats. There will be, for one thing, fewer democrats in the senate than there are now.

Two of the senatorial districts were represented by democrats through a fluke, the districts being normally republican. This fluke will not be repeated next year, it is said by those who are in a position to know. Then there is also likely to be some material change in the districts now represented by radicals.

Senator Hudnall Popular.

Outside of Senator Morris the name of Senator George H. Hudnall is coming most into the limelight as a candidate for governor. The senator has many friends, especially among the younger group of members of the legislature. He makes friends easily and holds them firmly. For this and other reasons many republicans hold that there is no better gubernatorial timber in the state than the senator from Superior.

So far Senator Hudnall has not said anything, nor indicated in any way whether he would or would not be a candidate. If the feeling now being shown in various parts of the state continues to grow in the next few months as it has since the session of the legislature it will be hard for Senator Hudnall to get away from it.

Mantowoc, Wis., July 26.—With the International Harvester Co., one of the wealthiest trusts of the country opposing him, McTernan, the former Milwaukee merchant who filed a petition in bankruptcy, may experience difficulty in getting his discharge from the court. The Harvester Co. is said to be a creditor to the extent of $2000 and friends of McTernan say the company is trying to force him to give up some of the proceeds of the sale of his home which was exempt and which he sold recently. The trust is said to have sought to have the home included in the assets on the claim that it was erected when McTernan had knowledge that he would fail, but the court ruled it exempt. McTernan owned the village cemetery at Milwaukee which has just been sold by the trustee to Wm. Mueller, an undertaker at Milwaukee. Final settlement in the McTernan case is held up by a question whether the individual and partnership assets shall be joined or disbursed separately.

TRY BANK OFFICERS FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

Former Officials of Defunct Bank of Asheville, N. C. Brought Before
U. S. Court Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Asheville, N. C., July 26.—Sentences amounting practically to life imprisonment may be imposed upon three former officials of the defunct First National Bank of Asheville if they are convicted on all the counts contained in the indictment on which they were arraigned for trial today before Judge Newman in the United States district court. The three defendants, who are charged with conspiracy and embezzlement, are Major W. E. Broese, Joseph E. Dickerson and W. H. Penland.

The First National bank of Asheville closed its doors twelve years ago. Since that time the cases against its former officers have been before the United States courts in North Carolina almost continuously. Major Broese, who is the most prominent of the three defendants, is now to face a jury for the fifth time. The original indictment was found at Greensboro, in October, 1917. Later another indictment was returned in Asheville charging the defendants with embezzlement, misapplication of funds and fraud. The Asheville indictment was held by the United States circuit court of appeals to be defective because two members of the grand jury—two negroes—who returned the bill had not paid their taxes. The defendants are now to go to trial on the Greensboro indictment.

At the first trial Major Broese and Mr. Dickerson were tried separately on the Asheville bill of indictment and found guilty. Each was sentenced to ten years in the federal prison at Atlanta. The case was appealed to the United States circuit court of appeals and a new trial granted on the ground that the presiding judge had erred in charging the jury. At the second trial Major Broese was tried alone and a mistrial resulted. The cases were then removed from Asheville to Charlotte and Major Broese tried for the third time. Another mistrial resulted. Major Broese was tried for the fourth time at Charlotte and convicted. The jury finding him guilty on the misapplication count and on the embezzlement count. The court imposed a sentence of seven years in prison. Again the case was carried up to the United States circuit court of appeals and dismissed on the ground that the Asheville indictment was faulty because two of the members of the grand jury had not paid their taxes.

FIREMEN GET A DAY OFF

Under New State Law Superior Firefighters Will Be Allowed 24 Hours
Each Week Off Duty.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Superior, Wis., July 26.—Chief Grain Inspector Archie McMillan, has been cleared of all charges brought against him by members of the local board of trade. The commission in its finding is unanimous in declaring that the charges of incompetence, lack of knowledge of the business and dominance in demeanor toward his inferiors are all unsubstantiated. The case has come to an end very quietly. For a time there was considerable feeling over the matter but the fact that the commission has held back its decision a couple of weeks and that it has been tacitly understood that the case against McMillan has fallen flat, has tended to allay the feeling. There seems to be little likelihood of any further attempt in the near future to "start anything" with the Wisconsin commission.

The commission is running short of eligibles and is advertising for applicants to get on the eligible list.

MORE ABOUT THE GAZETTE'S
POPULAR VOTING CONTESTScholarship Feature Makes Strong Appeal to Young Women of County—All Candidates are Active—Duty and Pleasure Combine to Add Spirit and Dash to Big Event—A Chance of a Lifetime.

Anyone not now taking The Gazette will be considered a new subscriber. It makes no difference whether the person has taken The Gazette in the past or not.

Votes are based on all subscription payments whether old or new. When an old subscriber makes a payment the date of his subscription is extended according to the amount paid. Subscriptions for The Gazette to start at a future date, will be treated as new. Record is kept of such subscriptions and same will be started when ordered.

The scholarship feature of The Gazette's voting contest appeals particularly to the young women in each community of the districts included in the contest, who desire to qualify themselves to fill remunerative positions as stenographers, bookkeepers and secretaries in commercial concerns. Dozens of young women in the territory embraced have entered the contest for the express purpose of winning one of these valuable scholarships.

In every town are well to do men and women who consider it their duty as well as find it a pleasure to assist young people in such a laudable ambition as that of securing a business education and fitting themselves to make their way in the world.

As soon as the young woman applicant makes her candidacy known to people of this class, as well as to her personal friends, they will at once begin to save the coupons and nonces which are appearing every day in The Gazette, and send in their subscriptions for a few months or a year and get the votes.

A subscription for one year by mail gives 3500 and 7000 votes in the city, and double this amount for new subscriptions.

It requires a very few of these at the outset of the contest to place any candidate in a most advantageous position.

Now is the time to get in a few votes. This great contest is just starting, and the people all over the county are aroused to meet the demands made upon them by the young ladies who are soliciting votes. If a little effort is displayed, the people will be glad to help you and you will find the collection of votes and getting of subscriptions not at all burdensome. In fact, it will grow to be a pleasure. There are so many peculiar and funny incidents happen in a day after votes that you will be sorry after the contest is over, and wonder why someone else had not launched the proposition long before. The management of the contest department feels that the support already given has been heartily earned. While the contest is in its infancy cut out among your friends and relatives and do a little talking. You will grow to enjoy it, and the experience thus gained is worth four prizes.

While the affair is just getting started, get out and do a little work on the quiet. It is not necessary to get immediate results, promises given are just as good and can be counted in with your reserve to be collected and voted during the last week of this great contest.

Many people are willing to help the young ladies and are only waiting to be asked to do so. The first candidates to ask for the subscriptions are the ones who will get them, so it is imperative that those who desire to enlarge their count among their friends and make their cause known.

There is no such thing as too many opportunities to gain by persistent effort. Study the proposition carefully and you will see that it is easy to be a winner of a prize.

Above all things do not get discouraged because someone else has a few more votes than you. A few thousand votes do not count the only in the contest and those at the very bottom have an even show to win with those at the top of the list. No matter how many votes anyone else may have do not lose courage; simply make up your mind to win and then go after votes.

Pitch right in with a firm determination to win or give the one who does win the contest of her life. Nothing is ever gained by lying back and letting someone else pick up the prizes of life. Nothing like this offer will ever be given in Janesville again very probably, and the opportunity grasped immediately and striven for earnestly will not be regretted.

If you have any friends who desire to assist you, send them up to the contest manager, and he will give them a receipt book and show them how to go about getting votes. Call on the contest manager at any time and he will furnish you with information and assist you in any way possible.

Everyone is entitled to ballot. It makes no difference whether they are new subscribers, or old paying in advance, they are entitled to votes and should ask for them.

A great many people do not understand, and for their satisfaction we wish to say that anyone starting to take the paper since the contest started, will always be considered a new subscriber during the life of the contest, and votes given accordingly. If you start the paper now and pay more later during the contest, you will receive the same number of votes as a new subscriber.

Subscription Books.
Contestants and their friends are privileged to accept payments on subscriptions and in order that they will receive for such payments they will provide them with a receipt book if they will inform the Contest Department.

Open Evenings.
For the benefit of those who cannot call during business hours this office and contest department will be open every evening until 8 o'clock.

FLIES OVER THE
ENGLISH CHANNELLOUIS BLERIOT WINS FAME AND
$5,000 IN DARING AERIAL TRIP.

FROM FRANCE TO ENGLAND

Makes Speed Close to Mile a Minute
as He Crosses the British Waterway—Orville Wright Compliments
French Rival.

Dover, England, July 26.—Without mishap and as calmly as the average man rides to his daily toll in a street car, Louis Blériot, a French aviator, sailed across the English channel from Calais, France, in his monoplane and landed on the cliffs of Dover.

The aviator accomplished the remarkable feat of flying across the channel in 23 minutes, traveling at the rate of nearly a mile a minute.

Beats Speed of Mailboats.

Bleriot left Les Barraques, three miles from Calais, about 4:30 a. m., on one of the smallest monoplane ever used. He crossed the channel in a little less than half an hour, twice as swiftly as the fastest mailboat. His speed averaged more than 45 miles an hour, sometimes it approximated 60 miles. He kept about 250 feet above the sea level and for ten minutes, while about mid-channel, was out of sight of both coasts and the French torpedo destroyer which followed him, with his wife and friends aboard.

By his achievement Bleriot won the prize of $5,000 offered by the London Daily Mail, for the first flight across the English channel, and, stole a march on his rivals, Hubert Latham and Count de Lambert, both of whom had hoped to make the attempt yesterday.

Bleriot, who speaks a little English, described his remarkable flight very modestly.

Describes His Feat.

"I arose at three o'clock," he said, "and went to the aeroplano shed. Finding everything in order on the trial spin, I decided to make the flight. The French torpedo boat destroyer which was in attendance, was signaled and it put out about four miles. Then I rose in the air and pointed directly to Dover. After ten minutes I was out of sight of land and had left the warship well behind. For a few minutes I could not see either coast, nor any boat. I tried to keep at an average height of 250 feet. I might easily have gone higher, but it would have served no purpose. This was about the right height, I thought, to clear the Dover cliffs safely."

Bleriot said he had absolute control of the machine throughout and had no fear that the motor would fail.

Wright Compliments Bleriot.

Washington, July 26.—On the eve of making an aeroplano flight involving greater dangers than Bleriot risked in crossing the English channel, Orville Wright expressed great pleasure when he learned the success of the Frenchman.

"I have said all along that Bleriot would be the first to make the flight across the channel once he decided to attempt it," said Mr. Wright. "It was a great flight," he added.

"That it was a personal triumph for Bleriot, however, rather than any indication of advancement in the art of flying, was Wright's idea of the significance of the accomplishment. He spoke admiringly of Bleriot, saying he was one of the most daring of all aviators. Mr. Wright is familiar with the Bleriot monoplane, which, he said, is of the Antoinette type used by the latter's form of construction.

"I believe Bleriot has added movable wing tips to his machine since I saw it," said Mr. Wright. "His type of monoplane is based on the principles of the old French toys and on the models used by Pénard, to which Prof. Langley's machine was also similar. The monoplane, however, has not as good a method of control as the biplane which we use."

Ohio River Steamboat Goes Down Near Gallipolis.

Gallipolis, O., July 26.—With a big hole above in her side and water pouring in, the packet steamer Tacoma was towed from the middle of the Ohio river to shore in a sinking condition.

The steamer sank shortly after the 150 passengers had been taken off. The boat collided with an obstruction near Proctorsville, which disabled her. Among the passengers, all of whom landed safely, were 35 persons composing an excursion party from Cincinnati. The Tacoma is valued at $35,000 and is owned by the Groesbeck line of Cincinnati.

Ponape, Fla., July 26.—With her rigging damaged and her sails torn almost to shreds, the fishing schooner Minnie W. arrived in port and reported the loss of three of her crew in the gulf hurricane of last Wednesday, and the miraculous escape of two others. These drowned were Italians.

Wealthy Man a Suicide in Jail.

Philadelphia, July 26.—Alfred Wortman, who claims he was a member of a wealthy family in Portland, Ore., committed suicide in the county prison, where he had been confined, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. He tore his clothing in two strips and banged himself to a cell door.

MEN GET CATTLE DISEASE.

Charbon Which Killed Many Animals Found Among Human Beings.

Lake Charles, La., July 26.—Charbon, a deadly and loathsome disease which afflicts cattle and which has killed thousands of valuable animals in Louisiana, has attacked human beings now and many men are under treatment. In Leesburg, the county seat of Cameron Parish, eight humans have been stricken. Up to date no deaths have resulted.

Charbon has afflicted cattle for centuries, but has seldom visited this country. It was known to the ancients in Egypt and often scourged the Asiatic and oriental countries. It is caused by a germ which enters the animal's skin through an abrasion. It multiplies and causes an inflammation which turns into a tumor or cancerous growth which terminates in blood poison. The United States government, alarmed by the spread of the disease, has made, has sent experts from the bureau of animal industry to assist local veterinarians in fighting the plague.

SPLIT IN KENTUCKY MILITIA.

Resignations of 25 Officers Stir Ire of Gov. Wilson.

Louisville, Ky., July 26.—By the resignations of the colonel and 25 officers of the First Infantry, Kentucky National Guard and the resulting dissatisfaction among the remaining officers and men, Louisville finds herself with her military department badly handicapped.

Gov. Wilson said he will accept the resignations of every officer as soon as they reach his desk at the capitol in Frankfort today, and added that the state would permit no such "insubordination."

The avalanche of withdrawals followed the wroth resignation of Col. W. D. Haldeman, who is in Michigan. From the statements of his friends it was learned that he was angered because two officers in his command had been summarily dismissed.

SLAYS PRINCESS FOR REVENGE.

Discharged Housekeeper Murders Royal Russian with an Ax.

St. Petersburg, July 26.—News has been received here of the murder of the young Princess Alexandra Meatchersky at her father's estate in Smolensk province. The housekeeper, in revenge for being discharged, decapitated the 14-year-old girl with an ax. Hurt in Big Four Wreck.

Kansas City, Mo., July 26.—With a roar that could be heard for miles, Washburn passenger train No. 4 plunged into the Missouri river 30 miles east of this city. Six passengers lost their lives and of the 20 injured it is believed three will die.

The dead were: Charles Flowers, engineer, Kansas City; Louis Bond, fireman, Moberly, Mo.; Harry Eckert, baggage man, St. Louis; Daniel, two-year-old son of L. L. King, Eldon, Mo.; Charles Anthony, Jesse Oldham, Mo.; Charles Anthony, Jesse Oldham, Mo.; Charles Anthony, Jesse Oldham, Mo.

Those seriously injured are: Frank Gardner, Mt. Vernon, O.; Mrs. H. S. Hackett, Orrick, Mo.; Miss Irene Doran, Orrick, Mo.

Among the injured who are expected to recover are: P. W. Sathoff, St. Louis; Peter Nau, Cleveland, O.; Jacob Stalnoff, Cleveland, O.; George Motenif, Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Five Cars and Engine Submerged.

Of the eight cars which made up the train five and the engine are now in the river, with the water covering all of them except one end of the Des Moines sleeper. The bridge had been weakened by recent floods.

Eight mail clerks were saved only by the fact that the roof of their car was torn off and allowed them to get out on top of the car and swim for the shore. None escaped injury.

Woman Doctor a Heroine.

Dr. Turner Lohveck, a woman physician of St. Louis, was the heroine of the wreck according to railroad officials and passengers. In 30 minutes she gave temporary treatment to 27 injured persons, several women passengers assisting her by preparing bandages.

"It seemed to me every woman there tore up her skirts for dressings," said Dr. Lohveck. "Clothing was freely given by the uninjured and many emptied their baggage of wearing apparel."

Forty-Two Hurt in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 26.—Forty-two persons were injured in a wreck of the Big Four train No. 16, from Chicago to Cincinnati, at Zionsville, 17 miles northwest of this city.

Six of the passengers most seriously hurt were brought to hospitals in this city. They are: D. P. Beatty, Akron, O., roadmaster Lake Erie & Western railroad; H. H. Croel, American Book Company, Cincinnati; Edward Long, LaFayette, Ind.; Dr. D. A. Sullivan, Lima, O.; Mrs. Mary Elzy, Louisville, Ky.; Jacob Elzy, Louisville, Ky.; Mrs. Magnolia Miles, Knoxville, Tenn.

All the others injured were able to continue to their destinations on a special train made up in this city and sent to the scene of the wreck.

The baggage car and the coaches behind it left the track while the train was running 50 miles an hour. The locomotive held to the rails. Several of the coaches turned over. There were 200 passengers on the train, and those unhurt, joined by Zionsville citizens, took the injured out of the car windows.

ORDERS NAVAL RESERVE CRUISE

Secretary Meyer Sends Instructions to the Militia.

Washington, July 26.—Secretary Meyer of the navy department issued the final orders for the summer cruise of the naval reserves on the great lakes. Copies have been sent to the commanders of the reserves in Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota and Ohio.

No changes are made in the original program, which sets August 10 to 20 as the dates for the cruise, with Thunder Bay, on Lake Huron, the rendezvous. Commander C. C. Marsh, U. S. N., is designated to conduct the exercises, and Naval Constructor D. C. Nutting, U. S. N., will be inspector of hulls. A naval officer is to be assigned to each of the vessels which will participate in the cruise. These will be: Nashville, flagship, Illinois reserves; Dorothea, Essex, Hawk, for Ohio reserves; Gopher, for Minnesota reserves; Yantic and Don Juan de Austria, for the Michigan reserves.

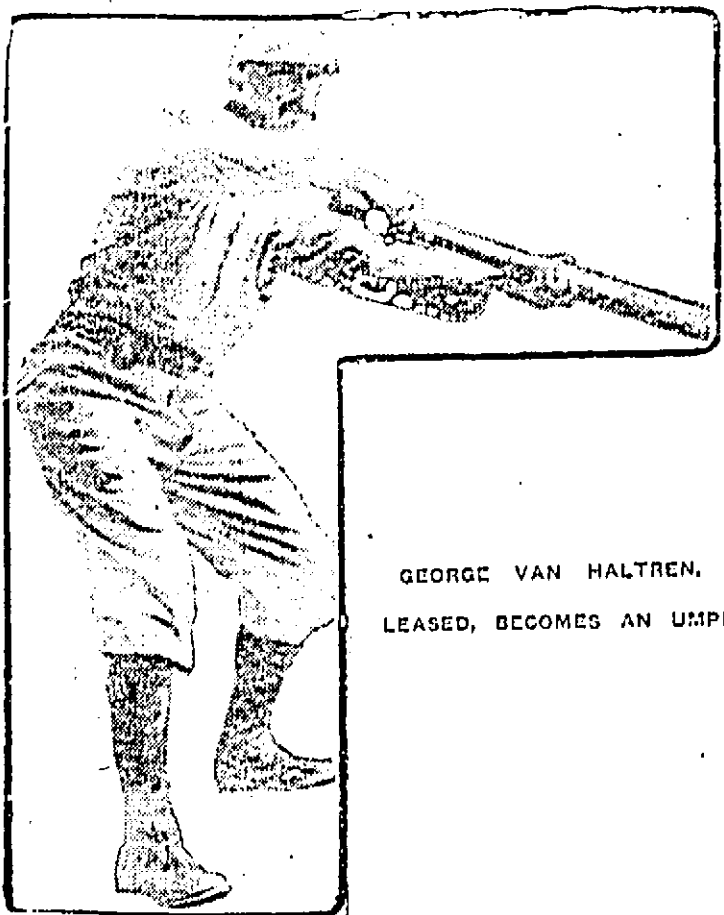

NEGRO TROOPS NOT WANTED.

Vermonters in Rage at Soldiers' Visit to Fort.

Burlington, Vt., July 26.—This city, the location of famous underground railway stations and a hotbed of abolition in the ante-bellum days, the home of the only minister of the gospel who had the courage to preach John Brown's funeral sermon, the home of Congressman D. J. Foster, who more than anyone else was instrumental in framing legislation against Jim Crow cars in the national capital, the metropolis of a state that holds all records for big Republican majorities, finds itself in a peculiar dilemma.

Wednesday the community will witness the arrival of about a thousand negro soldiers, members of the Tenth cavalry, who have been assigned to Fort Ethan Allen. They will be about the most unwelcome bunch of men that has struck Vermont since the St. Albans raid.

With the coming of the Tenth, grandchildren of the abolitionists of 60 years ago are crying from the housetops for Jim Crow cars. But as yet no concerted action has been taken, no appeal has been made to the war department to send the troops somewhere else, and it is unlikely that any such move will be made.

DENTAL CHAT

No tooth brush can thoroughly clean the teeth.

There is a time crust that forms on the teeth from the saliva which is too hard for the brush to remove.

One should visit a dentist at least twice a year and have this tartar scraped off.

Then with daily use of tooth powder and brush the teeth can be kept in good order and preserved.

Neglect of the daily brushing allows the food particle to ferment and produces a destructive action on the enamel.

Teeth are good friends to us. They deserve better care than they usually receive.

SPECIAL COUNCIL MEETING TONIGHT

Session Made Necessary by the Coming Circus Parade and Other Important Matters.

Difficulties arising over the proposed route of the Hiram and Bailey circus, which shows here next Friday, caused Mayor Carlo to call a special meeting of the city council for tonight. As was originally planned, the circus parade would pass over the Milwaukee and Jackson street bridges, but this has been objected to in that it is thought that the two bridges are not strong enough to bear the weight of some of the heaviest wagons and exhibits. It is probable that the route will be changed so that neither of the bridges will have to be crossed.

Other matters which may come up for consideration and decision are: the application for a liquor license by Mike Conley and James Dayton at the Myers Annex; consideration of the grade on Division street, and the petition of residents on Racine street in regard to the storm sewer which the council ordered built at the last meeting. Now that the improvement has been ordered by the city, the residents do not wish the work to proceed.

MAGNOLIA DITCH IS BEING EXCAVATED

Contractors Have Nearly Finished First Three Miles of the Work Already.

The contractors on the Magnolia drainage ditch have excavated nearly three miles on their contract, and the effects of the work is plainly noticeable at this end of the ditch, where it is perfectly dry, and the soil around is being depleted of the abundant moisture which usually prevails. So far the owners of land adjoining the ditch are well pleased with the results.

BICYCLE WAS TAKEN AND THEN RETURNED

Qualms of Conscience Caused One Who Stole Dean Kimball's Property To Bring It Back.

A bicycle belonging to Dean Kimball, son of Alderman George Kimball, was stolen yesterday while the lad was attending the Congregational church but returned safely to the owner by the police this morning. It is thought that some youngster broke the tenth commandment, took a joy ride on the machine before his conscience smote him and then confessed to his parents who immediately notified the police where the missing bicycle could be found.

MUCH BUSINESS IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Two Drunks Sentenced While Deming Contributes to Cause of Education.

In municipal court this morning James Simmons, who has been slowly poisoning himself for an attack of the delirium tremens for the past week, asked the judge to send him to jail to regain his wits. Simmons' spirit is willing, but his flesh is weak. Ted Mulenbush, who was arrested for being drunk and disorderly, went to jail for eight days in default of enough money to pay a fine of $1 and costs, amounting to $2.10.

Today was ladies' day in court and a select cortege of Jansville's demimonde appeared to make their semi-occasional enforced contributions. Two hundred and thirty-six dollars was the amount dropped in the plate by the frail sisterhood for violating sections three and four of ordinance seventy-five. Of this amount Stella Whitney, landlady, paid $37.50, while the inmates, Belle Harris, Daisy McGee and Della Golden, each paid $17.50. May Evans, landlady, paid $37.50, and Grace Gordon and Ethel Russell each paid $17.50 for playing a questionable trade. May Robinson, housekeeper, Anna Brown and Grace Reynolds, inmates, paid corresponding fines for the same offense.

APPOINTMENT FOR SIXTY DAYS ONLY

Chief Game Warden Names Draft For the Sixty Day Period On Saturday Last.

Peter Drafiol, one of the few present deputy game wardens whose name did not appear in the original list of appointments for the sixty day term of service, has again been named by the Chief state game warden. Mr. Drafiol has served as game warden for many years and has been most efficient. While his appointment is for but sixty days this does not mean he may not be replaced at the end of that period or be reappointed for the good of the service. Care is being taken in the selection of the deputy game wardens throughout the state and the appointments are all for but sixty days until the work has been reorganized. There has been some talk of either a man named Drake or Oliver Mason receiving the permanent appointment.

PROMISED RAIN IS NEEDED IN FIELDS

Weather Man Says Showers Are Coming Tonight—Corn Needs Rain Badly.

With the hay pretty well harvested and the majority of the rye and barley in the county in sheaves rain would be a blessing to the farmers of the county. Corn is especially in need of rain and unless it really comes within a few days serious damage will be done to the crops whose outlook at present is most bright. Tobacco also is badly in need of rain and a good steady drizzle for twenty-four hours would work wonders. Pastures are becoming exceptionally dry for this time of year and are parched giving but little food for the stock. Garden truck is also in need of a rain of a soaking variety while the berry crop has been almost entirely lost owing to the dry season.

The Man From Brodney's

By GEORGE BARR M'GUTHCHIEON

Copyright, 1938, by Dodd, Mead & Co.

"Oh, if something only would happen!" exclaimed her ladyship. "A riot, a massacre—anything! It all sounds like a farce to you, Geneva, but you haven't been here for five months, so you have."

As they moved away from the vine covered porch in the garden a hand pressed the leaves in the balcony above, and the dark, saturnine face of a trusted servant appeared behind it. This secret espionage had been going on for days in the chateau. Scarcely a move was made or a word spoken by the white people that escaped the attention of the swarthy spy. And, curiously enough, these spies were no longer reporting their discoveries to Hollingsworth Chase.

The days passed. Hollingsworth Chase now realized that he no longer had authority over the natives. He had made the reports for the islanders and took charge of the statements from the bank.

Every morning Chase rode lustily into the town, transacted what business he could, talked with the thoroughly disturbed bankers and then defiantly made his way to the chateau. He was in love with the princess—desperately in love. He understood perfectly—for he was a man of the world and cosmopolitan—that nothing could come of it. She was a princess, and she was not in a story book; she could not marry him.

FORMER MISTRESS OF THE WHITE HOUSE DIES

Mrs. Elizabeth Dandridge, Daughter of President Zachary Taylor, Victim of Heart Disease.

Winchester, Va., July 26.—Surrounded by friends in the home where she has lived quietly for years, Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor Dandridge, daughter of Zachary Taylor, who was president of the United States, died at the age of 85.

Mrs. Dandridge was the third daughter of Gen. Zachary Taylor, twelfth president of the United States, and was born at Fort Snelling, Minn., April 20, 1853. Death was due to heart failure, following a long period of illness. She will be buried here tomorrow.

Mrs. Dandridge received her education in Philadelphia. At the age of 19 years she married Maj. William W. S. Bliss, who was a member of her father's staff in the Mexican war, and who later became his private secretary.

After her father's inauguration, Mrs. Bliss, or "Miss Betty," as she was popularly called, became mistress of the White House. It was said of her that she "did the honors of the establishment with the grace of a rustic belle and the grace of a duchess." She had a wide acquaintance with public men of the day and was noted for her beauty and charm and the splendor of her entertainments.

After the death of her father, 16 months after his inauguration and the death of her husband in 1893, she spent several years in retirement. She later married Philip P. Dandridge, a member of a prominent Virginia family, whose death occurred 28 years ago.

Mrs. Dandridge's eldest sister, Sarah Knox Taylor, was the first wife of Jefferson Davis, president of the southern confederacy. Another sister was the wife of former Surgeon General Wood of the United States army.

REID HOST TO BRITISH KING.

American Ambassador and English Monarch at Church Together.

St. Albans, England, July 26.—The royal standard flutters over Ambassador Reid's residence at West Park, and the precincts were the center of attraction for the country people who came from miles around.

The king and queen, with the American ambassador and Mrs. Reid, and several of the other guests, attended services at St. Albans church, and got an ovation. A guard of honor, composed of several corps of boys scouts from neighboring villages, was drawn up outside the church and saluted the party when it entered.

The royal party on emerging found difficulty in forcing a way through the crowd. Before returning to Mr. Reid's residence, the king inspected the scouts.

DAILY DIET HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN, Food Specialist.

GREEN CORN.

Green sweet corn is a common article of food in summer. It contains all the elements of nutrition and its starch is much more easily digested than that of the ripe, hardened grain, but much of it is liable to be swallowed without thorough mastication, and then it will be imperfectly digested, the outer shell being impenetrable by the digestive fluids. It needs little cooking; three minutes in boiling water and two hours in the fireless cooker is enough. Corn so prepared may serve well as a full meal for growing children, much better than white bread, potatoes, pie, meat and cake.

The boy especially who cannot enjoy such a meal should be taken from school and turned out to grass.

GIVEN A SEND-OFF BY PRESIDENT TAFT

President Sends Letter to Tokyo, Asking For Courtesy for Wisconsin's Baseball Players.

(Special to the Gazette.)

Madison, Wis., July 26.—A letter from President Taft to Ambassador Thomas J. O'Brien of Tokyo, received today by President C. R. Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin, requests the courtesy of the American embassy in Japan for the team of university baseball players who are to leave Aug. 22 for a series of ten games with the University of Kelo. Through his acquaintance with Mr. Charles E. Barker, President Taft's athletic "friend," Professor S. W. Gilman of the university course in commerce was able to secure the interest of the president in the coming trip of the state university nine, and the following letter to the American Ambassador in Japan resulted:

The White House.

My Dear Ambassador: I am advised that the faculty of the University of Wisconsin has accepted the invitation of the Kelo University of Japan to play a series of ten games of baseball with the Japanese university in the month of September.

I am glad such a trip is to be undertaken, as it can be but of advantage to the universities in the encouragement of many sports and athletics, and will lead to a better understanding between the universities of the two countries.

I should greatly appreciate any courtesies or consideration which your power which you may be able to extend to the team while in Japan which may add to the usefulness and pleasure of their visit there.

Sincerely Yours,
WILLIAM H. TAFT.
Hon. Thomas J. O'Brien,
American Ambassador, Japan.

Sixteen Men To Go.

The party of young men who will represent the university on this trip includes sixteen, Dr. Charles McCarthy, Ph. D., '01, of the State Legislature Reference Library and lecturer in political science in the university will be the official representative of the university. Genkan Shibata, a brilliant young Japanese student from Toyama who won special honors upon graduation this June for his thesis on "Secret and Open Reserves, Depreciation and Surplus in Higher Accounting," will be the business manager of the team, and Edwin C. Jones, '07, Portage, will be the official reporter. The personnel of the team, which is to stop at Seattle and play three games with the University of Washington before sailing is as follows:

Pitchers—D. S. Knight, '09, Bayfield and C. M. Nash, '10, Grand Rapids. Catchers—E. E. Barlow, '09 Arcadia, and Arthur Klompoll, '11, Casaville. 1st Baseman—Michael Timbers, '11, Mauston. 2nd Baseman—John Messner, '09, Milwaukee and J. A. Simpson, '10, Shullsburg. Shortstops—K. E. Follows, '11, Lodi, and O. Lapham, '10, Milwaukee. 3rd Baseman—A. A. Pergam, '10, Cedarburg. Right Fielder—Ralph W. Mockingstone, '09, Waukegan. Center Fielder—H. H. Rogers, '09, Portage. Left Fielder—D. J. Flannigan, '11, Waukegan.

Grads Help the Team.

The University of Kelo advances the transportation, and the cost of the trip is guaranteed, but as $1,000 for current expenses was necessary, alumni and friends of the university and its athletes loaned the amount needed. Those who thus showed their interest in this new movement in international intercollegiate athletics are President Van Hise, '79; T. E. Brittingham, Regent Magnus Swenson, Regent L. S. Hanks, Judge A. L. Sanborn, '80, O. D. Brandenburg, Prof. W. A. Scott, D. K. Treney, all of Madison, and Regent Frederick Thwaites of Milwaukee.

Making Money On the Farm

VI.—Seed Corn Breeding

By C. V. GREGORY,
Author of "Home Course in Modern Agriculture"

Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.

IN the preceding articles improved methods of growing a few of the most widely grown farm crops have been given. By study and careful attention to details it is possible for a farmer to make a good profit raising common produce for the general market. Much greater returns, however, may be obtained by specializing in some particular line and selling the products on a special market.

One of the most profitable special lines that can be followed is breeding improved seed corn. This is something that must be done for every locality, since corn shipped from any distance cannot be relied on. It is entirely possible to increase the yielding ability of a strain of corn ten bushels to the acre or more by a very few years' breeding. Seed from such an improved strain will find a ready market at satisfactory figures.

Selection of Ears.

In adding out to improve a strain of corn there are two main points to be considered—yield and quality. The quality can be determined readily by inspecting the ears. In examining the ears the following five points are to be looked for: (1) General appearance. The ear should be as large as it can be and still be sure to get ripe every year. It should be straight, symmetrical and not taper too abruptly. The buds and tips should be fairly well filled, though other more important points should not be sacrificed for this. (2) True type. Every established breed of corn has its peculiarities of shape, color, etc., that must be considered. The general type of the breed should be adhered to closely, as uniformity is an indication of breeding. (3) Maturity. No ear should be used for seed that is not sound and well matured. Soft, chaffy, starchy kernels or those shrunk at the tip, with chaff adhering to them, are indications of immaturity. Deep kernels go with late maturing corn. Extreme depth of kernel cannot be expected in the early varieties that must be grown in the north. (4) Vitality. While all corn should be tested before it is planted, yet there are many ears that can be thrown out without the trouble of testing. Immature ears are usually lacking in vitality. If the kernels are blistered on the back or the embryo is dark or yellowish the chances are that it will not grow. (5) Shelling percentage. A high percentage of corn to cob is desirable, but should be secured by compact, fairly deep kernels rather than by an abnormally small cob.

Increasing the Yield.

While quality is important, yield is even more so. This is not so easily determined, actual field tests being required. Before starting these tests the breed of corn to be grown should be selected. It pays to begin work with the best corn obtainable, as you are thus starting where some one else has left off. A breed of corn that has proved itself adapted to your locality is the best to select.

There are almost as many methods of breeding seed corn as there are corn breeders. Many of these are too complicated to be adapted to the farmer who is just starting in as a corn breeder. After a few years' experience with a simpler method, some of the plans for keeping a record of each ear from year to year and producing "pedigreed" seed corn may be employed.

The breeding plot should be 500 to 600 feet long—just long enough so that it takes an ear to plant a row. It should be wide enough for about fifty of these rows. The soil and drainage conditions of the plot should be as nearly uniform as possible. It should be located twenty to forty rods from any other corn, so that there will be no danger of mixing. Fifty of the best ears of the desired strain should be selected and shelled separately. Each of the rows in the breeding plot is to be planted with one of these ears. The work can be done with a planter if care is taken to clean out the boxes thoroughly each time across. It is better to drill the corn in the breeding plot since it is too narrow to cultivate to advantage crosswise. Two or three border rows should be planted around the edges of the plot.

"Moderation is the best temperance; temperance is the best diet, and diet is the best doctor."

Care of the Breeding Plot.

The breeding plot should not be fertilized any better than any of the other fields on the farm, and the preparation of the seed bed and cultivation should be the same. The prime object is to develop a strain of corn that will yield well under average field conditions. The extra work that is put on the breeding plot should be applied to the corn itself and not to the soil. About the time cultivation ceases all suckers should be cut off. This can be quickly done with a straight bladed corn knife. These suckers take nourishment needed by the good stalks and produce inferior pollen to fertilize the silks.

The most important part of the work is detasseling. When the tassels begin to appear go through the plot and carefully pull them out from every other row. This should be done every day for a week or more—so long as tassels continue to appear. At the same time any imperfect stalks in the other rows should be detasseled. If there are any rows that show a marked tendency to sucker, carry the ears too high or low or have any other marked defect, they should be detasseled also.

Comparing the Yields.

As soon as the corn is all ripe the ears from the twenty-five detasseled rows should be husked, keeping the produce of each row separate. The corn from the tasseled rows, as well as from the imperfect stalks that were detasseled and from the border rows, should be discarded. At the time of husking the detasseled corn any peculiarity of the stalks in a row should be noted. The number of stalks in each row should also be counted. The weight of the corn from a row divided by the number of stalks in that row will give the weight per stalk, which is the proper basis for comparison. It will be found that there is a very great difference in yielding ability, some rows yielding twice or three times as much as others. This yield, together with the number of good seed ears to the row, forms the basis for determining from which row to select ears to plant next year's breeding plot.

The rest of the ears worth saving should be stored away to plant in the increase field.

The increase field is not for the purpose of improving the corn, but merely to secure larger quantities of that which has been improved in the breeding plot. Each year seed from the highest quality and best yielding of the individual rows is saved to plant the next year's breeding plot and the remainder used in the increase field. In this way the standard keeps improving from year to year. Ten bushels to the acre increase is by no means the limit to which the improvement can be carried. Indeed, almost the only limit is the care and time bestowed upon the breeding plot.

The Seed Corn House.

Where several hundred bushels of corn are to be saved for seed, as is the case where a specialty is being made of well bred seed corn, it is necessary to have some sort of special seed corn house. This may be filled with slatted racks, on which the corn is laid, or the ears may be hung from the ceiling with binder twine. The latter is the better method, as it permits a more thorough circulation of air around the corn. The use of two strings, one at each end of the ear, keeps it from warping, as it will warp if tied by one string in the middle.

One of the chief requirements of a seed corn house is adequate ventilation. In the northern section where severe cold weather comes early some artificial heat will be needed. The corn may be hung in the seed house as soon as it is gathered. At this time it contains a large amount of moisture, so the windows should all be opened to allow it to dry rapidly. Artificial heat should be applied gradually at first, as too much when the corn is full of moisture will injure it. After the corn is well dried out less ventilation will be needed, though some should be given at all times. Heat will be needed from this time on only on very cold or damp days.

EFFECTIVE ROPE FASTENER.

No Knots Are Needed with This device and Its Use Means Big Saving of Time.

No knots are needed with the novel and effective rope fastener that has just been patented. Therefore, as there is nothing to tie up or untie, its use means a big saving of time. The fastener is shaped like a letter "W" with an inverted "V" on the bottom. This makes three slots, two above and one below, and to fasten a rope the latter is brought over one of the upper slots, down the lower one and up again, over the other arm of the W. Wound over the fastener in this way the rope cannot slip, but will hold its position as firmly as if tied. This device has a spring hook at the apex of the middle section of the W by which it can be attached to any projection. The fastener will be found very useful on sailboats or for hanging up clothes lines. The average person ties a knot that requires much time and patience to untie. With this fastener he is saved the trouble of making and opening weird knots.

Firm as if Tied.

AN EXTENSIBLE GAS BRACKET

One That Can Be Readily Raised or Lowered as Desired—For Gas or Electricity.

Every household in which gas or electricity is used as an illuminant would welcome the addition of the extensible fixture shown in the illustration below, invented by a Chicago man. In too many houses the gas brackets are placed so close to the ceiling that sufficient light does not reach a person who may be reading at the table. Imagine how immensely convenient this extensible bracket would be in such cases. When the light is desired only as a general illuminant for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of pivoted tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

Varnish for the Violin.

The famous Italian violin makers used, it is said, the following sort of varnish on their instruments: Rectified alcohol, one-half gallon; gum sandarac, six ounces; gum mastic, three ounces; turpentine varnish, one-half pint. These ingredients are put into a can by the above and frequently shaken, until the whole is well dissolved, when it is strained and kept for use. If upon application it is seen to be too thick, thin it with an addition of more turpentine varnish. A simpler preparation is made by mixing one pound of gum shellac in one quart of alcohol. The gum is dissolved by placing it in an earthenware vessel or a bottle with the alcohol and keeping in a warm place with frequent stirring or shaking. 2. Only the best of cabinet-maker's glue should be used for putting a violin together. It is prepared in the same way as ordinary glue, by melting it with sufficient water in a double glue pot, with water in the outer vessel to keep the glue from scorching.

Weight of a Pile of Stone.

The weight of stone in a pile may be estimated roughly without weighing it by ascertaining the cubic contents (found by multiplying together the length, width and height of the pile), and dividing this by the number of cubic feet per ton. This, of course, varies according to the variety of stone, its size, shape and the manner in which it is piled. Builders calculate that dry rubble masonry measures about 16 cubic feet per ton, and this is probably as near as you can arrive at an estimate.

Iceless Refrigerator.

The New York Times describes an iceless refrigerator, for use of poor families, devised by Miss Winifred Gibbs, cooking teacher and dietitian on the staff of the Society for Improving the Condition of the Poor. It is designed to do away with the use not only of the icebox, but ice itself. Miss Gibbs' refrigerator consists of tubes into which sawdust is placed. What is needed is to keep cool may be packed in the sawdust in bottles or tin boxes and the temperature will be maintained for at least three days exactly as when placed in the refrigerator. The sawdust will prevent outside heat from reaching the receptacle inside. The refrigerator is intended particularly to keep milk cold as when delivered by the milkman.

Somewhat Growsome Occupation.

One of the strangest signs in New York city is in an undertaking establishment in Eighth avenue. It is not conspicuously displayed, but it serves to startle when first noticed. It reads: "We make a specialty of exhuming bodies where desired."

Real Optimism.

One of the most praiseworthy optimisms we have ever known was a near-sighted deaf man who was thankful that he had ears around which he was able to hook his spectacles.

A LONG-HELD WANT.

Linen Damask, Napkins, Pattern Cloths

If you have any want to supply in the above lines, a saving of 10% should be worth taking advantage of. This is really an exceptional opportunity to buy linens—exceptional because our stock is in such complete condition. In addition to our usually large showing, we recently opened up about $2000 worth of damask pattern cloths and napkins.

We make a specialty of pattern cloths. Not a size missing in our great stock. We show them in about a dozen different qualities, in lengths from 2 to 4 yards and widths 2 yds., 2 1/4 yds., and 2 1/2 yds., in square and round patterns, 75 beautiful designs from which to select. We show these in Irish, Flemish and Scotch makes. The advantage in buying pattern cloths is: you get beautiful patterns with borders at the same price as you would pay for the same quality by the yard.

We show Napkins to match all cloths and a great variety of other napkins.

Of Damask by the yard we never allow our stock to run very low. We have several qualities in bleached, half bleached and unbleached. We lay great stress on the table damask which we sell at $1.00 per yard, full 72 inches wide and until August you can buy it at 10% off or 90c per yard. The saving is apparent to anyone. We have sold several substantial bills of linen recently and the business in this department increases day by day. We make this 10% reduction to move the linen during a period which is usually quiet and also to emphasize the importance of our great stock. There is probably nothing a housewife takes more interest in buying than fine linens and surely one can put their money into nothing better.

For wedding gifts nothing is more appropriate, nothing more appreciated than nice linen.

Take advantage of the special 10% reduction, which will continue only this week.

A Sheeting Bargain

We offer about 2000 yards of extra heavy brown sheeting, 36 inches wide, worth 9c, while it lasts, 7c.

It may be years before we can get sheeting of this weight to offer at such a figure.
